DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 24, 31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claims 2, 5, 6, 14-21 are canceled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 1, 3, 4, 7-13, 22-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent No. 6,757,479 by Niikawa in view of US Patent No. 6,329,787 by Ito et al. and US 2007/0271508 by Audet.

2. Regarding claim 1, Niikawa discloses a method comprising: (Fig. 1-3, Col. 2 line 45-51)

- Storing content on a portable memory device, content including an image captured using a recorder/playback device (Fig. 1-3, Col. 2 line 50, 51)

- Detaching the portable memory device from the recorder/playback device (Col. 2 line 45-58, memory card 8 is "inserted" it means they can be detached)

Niikawa fails to disclose displaying the image on the portable memory device while the portable memory device is detached from the recorder/playback device and displaying functional controls for the recorder/playback device while the portable memory device is connected to the recorder/playback device.

Ito discloses displaying the image on the portable memory device while the portable memory device is detached from the recorder/playback device (Fig. 1, 2, Col. 3 lines 29-32)

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify the proposed combination of Niikawa's system to include a display unit, as taught by Ito, for the advantage of providing a viewing communication to the user for easy understanding.

Niikawa and Ito both fail to disclose displaying functional controls for the recorder/playback device while the portable memory device is connected to the recorder/playback device.

Audet discloses displaying functional controls for the recorder/playback device while the portable memory device is connected to the recorder/playback device (paragraph 0130, 0144, 0236).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify the proposed combination of Niikawa and Ito's system to include a functional controls, as taught by Audet, on the portable memory device for the viewers to communicate easily.

3. Regarding claim 3, Niikawa discloses the method further comprising transmitting the content from the recorder/playback device to the portable memory device. (Col. 2 line 50, 51, Col. 3 line 8-10)

4. Regarding claim 4, Ito discloses the method further comprising selecting the image for display on the portable memory device. (Col. 2 lines 20-32)

5. Regarding claim 7, Niikawa discloses the method further comprising a mode to display the image, wherein the mode includes displaying the image as part of sequentially displaying multiple pieces of content. (Fig. 7, Col. 6 line 36-42)

6. Regarding claim 8, Niikawa discloses the method further comprising selecting a mode to display the image, wherein the mode includes displaying the image as part of simultaneously displaying multiple pieces of content. (Fig. 7, Col. 6 line 36-42)

7. Regarding claim 9, Niikawa discloses the method wherein the recorder/playback device is a digital camera. (Col. 6 line 55-58)

8. Regarding claim 10, Niikawa discloses the method wherein the recorder/playback device is a video camera (Col. 6 line 55-58)

9. Regarding claim 11, Audet discloses the method wherein the recorder/playback device is a audio recorder/player (paragraph 0130, 0144, 0161, 0236)

10. Regarding claim 12, Niikawa discloses the method wherein the recorder/playback device is a computer. (Col. 6 line 55-58)

11. Regarding claim 13, Audet discloses the method wherein the recorder/playback device is a television (paragraph 0223)

12. Regarding claim 22, Audet discloses the method wherein functional controls include soft keys that are particular to the recorder/playback device. (Soft key is a button, located along a display device, which performs whatever function is shown near it on that display. paragraph 0130, 0144, 0236)

13. Regarding claim 23, Ito discloses the method wherein the portable memory device is configured to include and attachment area to attach with battery charging device (Col. 2 lines 14-19) but Ito fails to disclose attachment area including a magnet for attaching the portable memory device to a metallic object, such that the portable memory device displays the image while attached to the metallic object.

It is noted that the use of magnet for attaching to a metallic device is old and well-known in the recording art. Therefore, official notice is taken. Moreover, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have a well-known magnet for attaching to a metallic device. User can easily attach a device without holding it while doing other work at the same time which will be more convenient.

14. Claim 24 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding method claim 1 above.

15. Claim 25 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding method claim 22 above.

16. Claim 26 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding method claim 23 above.

17. Regarding claim 27, Ito discloses the portable memory system wherein the interface means connects to and detaches from the recorder/playback device via a wireless connection (Fig. 1, portable device 14 is connected to a device 24 via a wireless connection).

18. Claim 28 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding method claim 7 above.

19. Regarding claim 29, Niikawa discloses the method wherein the recorder/playback device is a digital camera. (Col. 6 line 55-58)

20. Claim 30 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding method claim 12 above.

21. Claim 31 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding method claim 1 above.

22. Claim 32 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding method claim 22 above.

23. Claim 33 is rejected for the same reason as discussed in the corresponding method claim 23 above.
